

Release Date: Feb. 23, 2009

Contact: Chris Salley

Phone: 954-893-7300, ext. 4835

Fax: 954-893-7500

E-mail: chrissalley@retailenvironments.org

A.R.E. University Webinar to Explain LEED Basics

Hollywood, Fla. (Feb. 23, 2009)—With many retail environments industry professionals confused about what LEED is, the Association for Retail Environments presents an A.R.E. University webinar, Introduction to LEED: Everything You Wanted to Know But Were Afraid to Ask, on Thursday, Feb. 26, at 2 p.m. EST. Designed for beginners, the session will cover common misconceptions, the structure of a LEED rating system, and other basics. To register, visit www.retailenvironments.org/webinars.

The webinar is one in a series of A.R.E. University sessions addressing sustainability. A.R.E. University webinars present information tailored to the retail environments industry in a time-efficient, affordable format that avoids the environmental impact of travel. For a list of upcoming webinars, visit www.retailenvironments.org/webinars.

A.R.E. is committed to helping the retail environments industry become sustainable by providing industry-focused education, tools, and resources. For information on A.R.E.'s sustainable initiatives, visit sustainable-retail.com.

About A.R.E.

Members of the Association for Retail Environments (formerly NASFM) are retail environments professionals and proven industry leaders—companies that are well known for excellent craftsmanship, topflight service, and cutting-edge innovation. More than 800 member companies offer a full range of products and services for retail environments, and include store fixture suppliers, retail design firms, suppliers of visual merchandising products, and suppliers of materials and equipment for the retail environments industry. Member capabilities include importing, exporting, consolidating, installing, project management, engineering, design, and more.